SINKING OF THE STEAMER MONROE

Crews of Both Ships Mute Until Federal Investigation is Made.

CHARGES OF NEGLECT.

Ill-Fated Steamer Will be Blown up After Search For Bodies Has Been Completed.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 31.—Officers and seamen of the steamers Monroe and Nantucket are grim and taciturn, today.

Bowed under the grief of a tragedy which sent forty-one souls into eternity and apprehensive lest the investigation on Monday brand them guilty of negligence in not preventing the loss of life, the survivors resent inquisition.

Stories accusing Captain Berry, of the Nantucket, of carelessness are met by counter charges from the Merchants and Miners' line officials, who say Captain Johnson, of the Monroe, made errors of judgment.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 31.—The story of how 43 souls went down to death in the chill waters of the Atlantic when the liner Nantucket rammed and sank the steamer Monroe early yesterday was brought to port last night by the 91 survivors of the sunken ship's passengers and crew, who were rescued and brought to shore by the Nantucket.

It was a story of awful and sudden death, sweeping out of the dark and fog, and taking unawares the doomed voyagers with the heaviness of sleep still upon them. It told how the stricken Monroe, with her side gored deep by the knifelike steel prow of the Nantucket, filled rapidly, rolled over on her side, and in a few minutes turned completely over and plunged to the bottom, carrying with her the ill-fated passengers and members of the crew who failed to get clear of the wreck.

The revised lists prepared by Capt. Johnson, of the sunken vessel, who survived, showed:

Lost: Passengers, 19; crew, 22. Total, 41.

Saved: Passengers, 39; crew, 60. Total, 99.

Officials of the steamboat inspection service intend to conduct a thorough investigation of the collision.

One of the most thrilling stories told by survivors was that by Miss Sally McCombs, whom a crazed negro caught by the hair in a lifeboat, and had to be beaten into insensibility before he would free her. She was one of the nine members of the Macaria theatrical company who survive. Miss McCombs owes her life to the bravery of Charlie Sutton, a native of Hertford, N. C., and a member of the Monroe's crew, who leaped overboard from the foundering ship and kept her afloat in the icy waters until they reached one of the Nantucket's lifeboats.

The heroism and death of Chief Wireless Operator Kuehn was described by Captain Johnson, of the Monroe, in these words:

"Kuehn was standing by lifeboat No. 3, and was about to leave the ship. He had a life preserver on. I saw him unfasten the preserver, place it about the waist of a woman, and after seeing her safely away, miss his footing and fall overboard. He swam for a while in the cold, troubled waters, but before we could reach him he sank and was gone. He had stuck to the last."

New York, Jan. 31.—Dispatches add a further touch of horror to the sea tragedy off Chesapeake Bay in the report at Norfolk that the Monroe was top-heavy, and in an unseaworthy condition, whereby her rapid sinking after the collission was accelerated. Ten minutes after she was struck the Monroe sunk beneath the waves.

Captain James Leyland, superintendent of the Old Dominion line, later charged that the captain of the Nantucket was guilty of gross negligence when he drew his ship out of the gaping wound he had made in the side of the Monroe, thus permitting the sea to rush in and engulf her.

"Immediately following the crash," said Captain Leyland, "the Nantucket began to back away from the Monroe, thus exposing a huge gap in her starboard side. Good seamanship should have prompted those in command of the Nantucket to keep her close to the Monroe.

"The Monroe practically was standing still when the collision occurred. The whistle of the Nantucket had been heard and answered by one blast, which meant that the Monroe would pass on the port side. Then the crash came.

"The Monroe was not a top-heavy vessel. Had she been, she would have turned over when the Nantucket struck her. Instead, she sank only when filled with the rush of water through her side. I refute any insinuation that the Monroe needed watching because of being top-heavy, by this statement."

NEWS OF THE DAY

The concussion caused when a huge meteor fell to the earth at the Sandia Mountains, 25 miles east of Albequerque, New Mexico, Thursday night, exploded a magazine containing dynamite at the La Luz Mine. The explosion completely wrecked the mine building.

Destined to pass the House by a vote of two to one, as shown by the first test of strength yesterday, the Burnett immigration bill was taken up by that body and subjected to a fierce fire of debate from its opponents. The chief feature of the bill is a provision whereby immigration is sought to be restricted by the application of a reading test to all aliens who seek admission to the country. The first test on it showed 223 in favor of the measure and 108 against. The vote was not along partisan lines. Representative Burnett spoke first on the bill yesterday, and told the House that the measure was aimed at those aliens who have "no God, no law, no master,' 'and that it would head off a substantial percentage of immigrants from Southern Italy, Turkey, Greece, Poland and elsewhere.

A warrant charging an offense against a young girl was issued last night against Maury I. Diggs, former State architect whose recent trial and conviction under the Mann act caused nation-wide comment because of its political complications. Mrs. Elizabeth Pearring, a doctor's wife, swore to the complaint, alleging an offense against her daughter, Ida Pearring, 17 years old. New Year's eve is the time named, and warrants also were sworn to against John Gillian and John Doe Fisher, in connection with the same affair. "Fisher' 'is said to be an alias. Diggs' Case, under the Mann act, is now on appeal.

A dispatch received from the town of Bocorrea, in Lugo Province, of Spain, says that twenty gypsies have died in horrible agony as the result of eating poisoned fat which was intended for wolves which infest the district.

Replying to a statement of Senator Neils Christiansen criticising Gov. Cole. L. Blease's hostile attitude toward negro schools, the Governor sent a special message to the Senate of North Carolina last night taunting Christiansen with being the son of a captain in the Union army during the civil war. The Governor declared the elder Christiansen commanded a company of negroes. Christiansen's friends in the Senate have taken the Governor's message as an insult and have introduced a resolution to expunge it from the permanent record of the Legislature. Senator Christiansen's aged mother sat in the Senate gallery when the governor's fling at her dead husband was read.

Nominations of two interstate commerce commissioners were sent to the Senate today—Prof. Winthrop M. Daniels, of Princeton, N. J., chairman of the public utilities commission of New Jersey, and Henry Clay Hall, of Colorado Springs.

DECLINES TO WAIT FOR PROHIBITION

Cannon Gives League's Position on Enabling Act Amendments.

OPPOSES JULY PLAN.

Legislative Committee Willing For Vote on State-Wide Prohibition and Local Opjtion.

Richmond, Jan. 31.—With the minor qualifications the Anti-Saloon Leaug of Virginia is willing to accept all the amendments to the enabling act proposed by the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, save those designating the time for the holding the election, and fixing the date for State-wide prohibition to go into effect. The league is determined that prohibition shall become effective not later than July, 1, 1916, whereas the Senate Committee amendment would put the law into effect on May 1, 1917.

The position of the Anti-Saloon League is given fully in a statement issued yesterday under the signature of James Cannon, Jr., superintendent of the league and chairman of the organization's legislative committee. It rejects the amendment calling for an election on the fourth Thursday in June and insists as essential to proper compliance with the terms of the act upon a nelection to be held on the fourth Tuesday in September.

The amendment relating to the qualificatoin of voters is accepted by the league with the stipulation that instead of limiting participation in the election to those who are regularly 'qualified' at the time of the approval of the act, it shall be changed to admit all persons who were duly "registered" voters on January 1, 1914.

In conjunction with an election deferred until late in September, the change in the voting qualification suggested by the leage kould give unqualified but registered voters time to qualify for the election by the payment of their pol ltax. The committee amendment makes impossible any additions to the qualified list.

No serious objection is made by the league to the amendment which proposes to substitute the ballot marked "against state-wide prohibition" with one marked, "for local option." It declares its willingness also, to omit from the bill all restrictions on the manufacture and sale of cider and domestic wines.

Mr. Cannon in his statement says the amendment proposed by the Senate Committee provides that if a majority of the votes shall be for state-wide prohibition, then after the first day of May, 1917, there shall be State-wide prohibition in Virginia. The report of the legislative committee of the league sets forth with emphasise the attitude of the league on this question of the date when the prohibitory law should go into effect in the following language: "Virginia dry on May 1, 1916, or at the latest July 1, 1916," and this declaration of the report was not only adopted by the convention but emphasized time and again as the fixed purpose of that body. The Legislative Committee, therefore, has positive instructions on this point, and cannot agree to the change of date from May, 1916, to May, 1917.

The liquor traffic has been given its warning, and will have full eighteen months after the election to close out its business and charge the character of its investments. In no other state have the liquor dealers been treated with greater moderation, and it will be impossible for the Legislative Committee of the league to agree to this amendment."

PLEAD GUILTY TO LIBEL.

Heads of Catholic Order Ask Court to Free Prisoners.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—Pleas of guilty "nolie contendre" were entered in court here yesterday by Chas. Megonigel and C. H. Stage, who had been indicted on charges of libel and conspiracy to libel the Knights of Columbus in printing and distributing what purported to be an oath taken by members of that organization. James A. Flaherty, Supreme Knight of the order, told the court that the Knights of Columbus felt that they had been vindicated by the pleas entered and said the order would be satisfied if the court would discharge the defendants under a suspension of sentence. The court granted the request.

BANKERS BOW TO REGULATION

Financiers at Banquet in Philadelphia See Progress in Currency Law.

SINGING OF 'AMERICA.'

But One Voice Against Wilson— He Digs up Caraboa Fuss and Atacks Philippine Policy.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31.—Four billion dollars of Philadelphia and New York resources, personified in 620 bankers of the two cities who foregathered at the tenth annual banquet of the Philadelphia Group of the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association, in the Bellevue-Stratford last night, applauded the birth of individualism in American progress occasioned by the currency and Trust reforms of the Wilson Administration. A note of discord in the otherwise general harmony pictured by Toastmaster Thomas S. Gates, was injected by a fiery speech of Henry Dodge Estabrook, a New York attorney. He built upon the defunct issue raised many weeks ago by President Wilson's criticisms of army and navy officials of the Carabao Society to protest to the feasting money lords against threatened granting of independence of the Philippine possessions and by dint of good oratory and quoting of Walt Whitman poems, he pictured an Asiatic domination of future sovereign Philippine States to such an extent as to rouse his hearers to loud enthusiasm, that culminated in the singing of "America," with every man on his feet aplauding.

What reactionaries among the diners could not find in Mr. Gates' review of the Wilson financial program they discovered in the speech of Mr. Estabrook, by revamping all the details of the recent Carabao dinner in Washington with the subsequent reprimands of officers for ridiculing the policies of the government, gradually created a spectre of Orientalism that thratened to ensnare the "foundling Filipino babes" if erring statesmen should see fit to cut them off from the great American family. Apparent enough was a sentiment among the bankers to nail the Stars and Stripes above the ramparts of Mánila, and favor was expressed with Mr. Estabrook's opinion that the only real freedom will come to the struggling archipelago when, at the request of the Filipino themselves, new stars will be added to the banner of Liberty by the Administration to the Union of the island States.

CREW IN GRAVE PERIL.

Vanderbilt's Yacht Driven Farther in Shore And May be Broken Into Pieces.

New Orleans, Jan. 31.—The 48 members of the crew of Frederick W. Vanderbilt's yacht Warrior, which went aground off the Colombia coast Monday, are in great danger, according to wireless report received here.

The yacht has been driven farther in shore by heavy seas and is in danger of breaking up.

It is understood that the steamer Almirante went back to the Warrior at the earnest solicitation of Mr. Vanderbilt, owner of the yacht.

Colon, Jan. 31.—Vanderbilt's yacht Warrior, from which the owner and a number of distinguished guests were rescued early this week when she went ashore off the Colombian coast, is still holding out against the continued battering of heavy seas, according to wireless dispatches.

Children Die in Plunge.

Duncanon, Pa., Jan. 31.—C. A. Cook, of Newport, Pa., driver of one of the teams of the Atlantic Refining Company, was seriously hurt and two daughters, aged 7 and 9 years of Albert Hammacker were crushed to death and one horse killed in Watts township Thursday afternoon.

The children were riding with Cook when the wagon skidded on ice covered ground and tumbled over an embankment.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

In Police Court today Robert Johnson, colored, was fined $10 for stealing a quantity of cigarettes from Mrs. J. E. Owens.

The bill introduced by Mr. Thornton in the Virginia Senate authorizing the Auditor of Public Accounts to pay from the criminal charges fund the allowances made jurors summoned from the city of Richmond to try a criminal case in the Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, was passed.

Mrs. Marie Willets was granted an absolute divorce from her husband, Samuel Willets, millionaire sportsman of Old Westbury, Long Island, yesterday afternoon, by Judge J. B. T. Thornton, of Fairfax county, Va.

MEETING OF ALDERMEN.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held at noon today for the purpose of making arrangements for the purchase of what is known as the Black lot at the southwest corner of Queen and West streets. A resolution appropriating $53,500 for the same was referred to the finance committee. This lot adjoins that recently purchased by the city upon which it is proposed to erect a new high school building.

A resolution was adopted directing the corporation attorney to examine the title to the property in question and to provide for the expenditure of $3,500 to purchase the same. The resolution, which was laid over at the meeting Tuesday night providing substantially the same procedure, was again laid over. Nothing further was presented to the board, and after a session lasting but a few minutes the Board of Aldermen adjourned.

OHIO CONGRESSMAN TO SPEAK.

Hon. A. J. Montagne Will Make Address Sunday, February 8th, in Westminster Building.

Congressman Timothy T. Ansberry of Ohio, will address the men's meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in the Westminster Building. His theme will be: "The Trial of Jesus." Former Governor Montague will not be able to speak, as announced He will be in Richmond for the inauguration of governor-elect Stuart on Monday. He has promised the program committee to address the men of this city next Sunday afternoon, February 8th.

MAY DIVIDE TAX.

Attorneys for Home Office Cities Ask For 30 and 70 Per Cent. Division on Rolling Stock.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31.—The Senate committee on Roads and Internal Navigation gave an extended hearing yesterday afternoon to representatives of the cities effected by the proposed rolling stock law, adjourning after a session of two hours without taking action. The bill will come up again as a special and continuing order at the next meeting of the committee on Tuesday afternoon.

The rolling stock measure passed at the last session of the General Assembly provided for a distribution of the tax on this class of property on the basis of 25 per cent to the home office cities, and 75 per cent to the other taxing divisions. It was declared unconstitutional by the State Corporation Commission, because it levied the home office tax on the whole rolling stock for the local purposes of the various counties and school districts where differing tax rates obtain.

Under the new bill this difficulty is avoided by distributing the tax subjects among the local subdivisions.

Bonfire Cremates Boy.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 31.—Stumbling while playing near a bonfire on a lot near his home Thursday, 3 year-old Allen Richardson, of No. 616 N. Hope street, was so badly burned about his face and arms that he died two hours later in the Roosevelt Hospital.

READY FOR THE INAUGURATION

MILITARY FEATURE.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31.—Henry C. Stuart today took the oath of office before Judge James Keith of the Supreme court. The oath was administered in the presence of the inaugural committee and a few personal friends. He will be inaugurated Monday with unusual civic and military ceremony.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31.—Amid a blaze of military splendor and cheering thousands, Henry C. Stuart, Governor-elect, will be inducted into office on Monday at noon, as chief executive of Virginia.

The military perade, one of the principal features of the ceremony, will form at 10:30 o'clock in the capitol grounds and will proceed through the city to the strains of martial music, while Governor Mann and Governor-elect Stuart, attended by the former's staff in full dress uniform, will ride before the eyes of the admiring throng. Many thousand people from all over the State will come to Richmond Monday to see the spectacle.

At 11 o'clock the general assembly will convene and at 11:30 o'clock a joint assembly will be held in the chamber of the house of delegates.

According to the completed plans, the troops will form on the north side of the capitol, where they will receive Governor Mann and his staff Headed by a platoon of mounted police, the parade will move westward up Grace street.

Meanwhile, the ceremonies in the chamber of the House of Delegates will have come to a close, and the invited guests of Mr. Stuart and Governor Mann will take their places in the seats arranged for them on the portico.

Senators, Congressmen, judges and others will have seats arranged for them on the right, while the ladies and other guests will be on the left. The General Assembly, headed by the president Pro Tem of the Senate and the speaker of the House, will file through the hallway of the capitol to their seats in the center of the portico.

Governor Mann and Governor-elect Stuart will be the last to arrive on the portico, where they will proceed to the front of the stand. Judge Keith, president of the Supreme Court of Appeals, will administer the oath of office, while Bishop Gibson will make the invocation.

Governor Stuart will then deliver his inaugural address. The troops, after he has completed his address, will pass in review before the stand and seventeen guns will boom a salute to the incoming governor. The Howitzers will fire the salute.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Charles M. Wilburn, a car inspector of the Southern Railway who died on Thursday, will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from 1444 Duke street. Service will be conducted by the Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Church, and interment will be in the Methodist Protestant cemetery.

Funeral services for John Dix, formerly caretaker of the Alexandria Light Infantry Armory, whose death occurred yesterday, will take place on Monday at 3 o'clock from Wheatley's chapel. The Rev. John L. Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, will conduct the services. Interment will be in the Methodist Protestant cemetery.

AUTOMOBILE ACTIVITY.

The recent automobile show in Washington awakened dealers to the possibilities of Alexandria as a lucrative field for the selling of cars. Several of the leading dealers have been here this week looking for local representatives.

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexandria—Happenings in Society.

The dance given at the Elks' Hall last evening by the Alexandria Assembly, was one of the most brilliant events given in Alexandria in recent years. The ball-room was artistically decorated in keeping with the next holiday, Valentine's Day. The ceiling and walls were festooned with vines from which tiny red hearts and cupids were hung. The color scheme was carried out on the beautifully set table from which a most elaborate supper was served.

Schroeder's Orchestra played an exceptionally good dance music, consisting of the latest turkey-trot, tango and "hesitation" waltz favorities. A special train left at one o'clock to convey the Washington guests to their homes. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Milton French, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Stabler, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. CELEBRATION ON THE 23D

Birthday Association Meets Again Last Night—Plans Perfected for Parade

At a meeting of the George Washington Birthday Association, whose members are now busily engaged preparing for the monster parade to be held on Monday afternoon, February 23, held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last evening, it was announced that the merchants and citizens of the city are showing considerable interest in the celebration to be held on the birthday of our first President. The finance committee of the organization, which for the past week has been engaged in calling upon the business men of the city, reported that a considerable sum had already been promised toward defraying the expenses of the parade, and that the members of the committee felt confident that they would have but little difficulty in getting subscriptions in a sufficient amount to meet all the necessary expenses.

H. W. Rudd, Alexandria's Boy Scout Commissioner, was present, and informed the organization that 200 Boy Scouts from the National Capital would be present on February 23 to assist the Alexandria boys in doing patrol duty. The Boy Scots will be placed in charge of "Rescue Tents" where any persons who are unfortunate enough to become sick or meet with an accident will be given "first aid to the injured." Mr. Rudd also stated that the Boy Scouts' Band, of Congress Heights, would come to Alexandria to participate in the parade.

The High School children of Alexandria will be given a position in the line of march, and the organization adopted a resolution at the meeting last evening appropriating sufficient money to furnish each child with an American flag.

H. D. Kirk, chairman of the transportation committee, reported that he had had a communication from the Washington-Southern Railway stating that there would be reduced rates from Fredericksburg and intermediate points to Alexandria on the days of February 21, 22, and 23. This will insure a good many visitors from that part of the county between Alexandria and Fredericksburg. It is expected that the Washington-Old Dominion Railway will also have reduced rates in effect between Alexandria and Round Hill on the day of the 23d

Messrs. Geo. H. Rucker and Wm H. Duncan were named as a committee to be invited by the Birthday Association to organize a delegation of Alexandria county citizens to participate in the parade. A like committee from Fairfax county, composed of G. K. Pickett and James W Roberts, Jr., were also named. The association looks forward to a goodly representation of citizens from both of the counties adjoining Alexandria. These delegations will no doubt be mounted on horses and are to be given a prominent position in the line of march.

A. A. Paul, chairman of the committee to invite the fraternal organizations of Alexandria and Washington to participate in the parade, reported that active work in the line of inviting such organizatoins to turn out on the 23rd has been started, and that the secret organizations would be fully represented.

The question of decorating the city for the celebration was discussed at some length by the members present. The decoration committee reported that it was looking into the advisability of not only decorating with flags, bunting, etc., for the day display, but also that of stringing electric lights above the city for the night display. The association is desirous of making the city just as presentable in the way of decorations for visitors, as well as Alexandrians, and if it is found possible, not only will the association go to the expense of putting up flags, etc., which will do very well for the day time, but will also add to the city's brilliancy on the evening of the 23d by stringing rows of electric lights at some of the principal points.

The chairmen to arrange for the parade have about named the full membership of their committee. Some of them are as follows:

Music Committee—W. H. Luckett, chairman; membership, R. O. Robbins, M. L. Price, David Aitcheson, Donald Aitcheson, H. D. Kirk, R. F. Green, Lambert Sullivan, George L. Appich, A. K. Warfield, and F. A. Bayless.

Committee on Secret Organizations—A. A. Paul, chairman, Geo. K. Bender, A. J. Butcher, M. Schwab, V. H. Peele, William Martin, P. M. Bradshaw, H. W. Rudd, J. H. Trimyer, J. R. Mansfield, Grank Glascow, Fred Eberhardt, and Norman Williamson.

CHANGE OF POSTMASTER

The Alexandria postoffice, after sixteen years of Republican administration, will be turned over to Democratic control tonight at midnight. J. Armistead Eggborn, postmaster for the past four years, will be succeeded by Dr. Wm. M. Smith, who is also president of the Virginia Board of Health. There will be no ceremony in the changing of the postmasters. When the office closes for business at 8 o'clock the new postmaster will count the stamps and cash in his office, but will not assume active charge of the office until tomorrow morning. There will be no change in the personnel of the office, all of the clerks, carriers and other employes being civil service employes. Donald L. Aitcheson, who was appointed assistant postmaster by Mr. Eggborn when he assumed office, will remain in that position. Since his appointment this office has also been put under the civil service.

Mr. Eggborn, the retiring postmaster, has not made any plans for the future. He will probably take a long vacation before entering business life in Alexandria. He received a number of callers during the day, including a delegation of local newspaper correspondents, who thanked him for his courtesies and congratulated him upon the administration of his office. He was apopinted postmaster by President Taft on March 10th, 1910.

As was stated in the Gazette a bill was passed by the Virginia Legislature Thursday permitting United States postmasters to retain their positions on state boards of health. This was enacted for the purpose of permitting Dr. Smith to keep his position as president of the Virginia Board of Health.

MEETING AT THE SURPRISE.

Evangelist E. H. Thomson Will Deliver Address on "Victory Over the Grave" Tomorrow Night.

The International Bible Students Association will hold another meeting at the Surprise Theatre tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, when Evangelist E. H. Thomson will deliver an address. His subject will be "Victory Over the Grave."

The evangelist has made a close study of the Scriptures, and his deductions will no doubt prove interesting, instructive and comforting.

The International Bible Students Association has planned for four meetings in Alexandria, and that tomorrow night will be the third of the series. A large audience greeted Evangelist Kendall last Sunday night when he delivered an address on the second coming of Christ.

Wherever meetings under the auspices of the association have been held there have been large turnouts. No collections are taken up at these meetings, the Gospel being literally proclaimed without money and without price. The association also provides free literature for those who may desire it, and those who want to make further study of the themes presented can obtain reading matter by leaving their addresses with the ushers.

Carriage Committee—Thos. L. Hall chairman; J. Wm. May, H. H. Hall and Stephen Gill.

Press Committee—H. White, chairman; Luther Thompson, R. S. Barrett, James F. Peyton, M. J. Dwyer R. L. Carne, Robt. A. Zachary, Jno T. Worthington, and J. Wm. May.

Military Committee — Chairman Capt. Frank L. Slaymaker, Maj. J E. King, Maj. Wm. L. Smith, First Lieut. Conrad Johnson, and Messrs Arthur Herbert, R. H. C. Beverly and C. H. May.

The chairmen of the other committees stated that they hoped to have their lists completed by the meeting of the Association which is to be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 31.—Frank Massie, son of State Senator Bland Massie yesterday evening accidentally shot and killed John Campbell, young man employed on the Senator's farm, near Tyro, Nelson county.

Frank Massie was going home, and saw some dogs jump a fence. He fired at them in the dusk, and hit Campbell, who was near.

PROPOSED MERGER.

Charlottesville, Va., Jan. 31.—Five of the nine members of the board of visitors of the University of Virginia, including the rector, met Thursday afternoon to consider the merger of the medical department of the University of Virginia and the Medical College of Virginia. The board received the report of the special committee which had been in conference in New York, with representatives of the Carnegie Foundation and General Education Board in regard to the probability that they would endow the merged institution.

After considering this report and other information which was laid before it, the board unanimously adopted a resolution declining to support the act proposed to be introduced into the Legislature to effect the merger.

The visitors drew up an individually signed statement, in which they strongly recommended the amendment of the woman's college bill to insure the establishment of the proposed co-ordinate college on the opposite side of Charlottesville from the University buildings and to put the management and control of the new college in the hands of the same board of visitors which serves the University of Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31. —Sensational developments arose yesterday in the controversies over the amalgamated medical schools of Richmond with the medical department of the University of Virginia, and the proposed co-ordinate college for women at Charlottesville. As a result of the agitation over these proposed two movements, fights have been instituted, it is understood, upon Dr. George Ben Johnson, of Richmond, and upon Dr. J. S. Jarman, who will be opposed for re-election to the state board of education.

It was learned in the State capitol yesterday that letters of bitter criticism had been addressed to members of the board of visitors of the University of Virginia, assailing the professional record of Dr. Johnston and charging him with being an ambitious politician. It was charged that Dr. Johnston's professional association with the city home of Richmond had been such as to reflect neither credit nor benefit on the institution. A letter of protest against Dr. Johnston will, it is understood, also be presented to the administrative board of the city of Richmond.

It is understood that a fight has been organized against the re-election of Dr. J. L. Jarman for a seat on the State Board of Education by those who believe that Dr. Jarman is hostile to the proposed co-ordinate college for women at Charlottesville

Dr. Jarman is the present head of the Female Normal School in Farmville, and it is thought Dr. Jarman would prefer to have the female normal in Farmville advanced to such an educational institution as that contemplated for women at the University of Virginia and to take the place of such proposed institution.

Creates Another Office.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31. — The House of Delegates has passed a bill to amend and reenact an act to provide in cities containing 70,000 inhabitants or more for the election of a special justice of the peace, to be known as the civil justice, to prescribe his jurisdiction and duties and to fix his compensation, and to authorize the issue by other justices of the peace in said cities of warrants cognizable by said city justice, approved March 5, 1908, as amended, increasing the salary limit of said civil justice, providing for interrogatories under executions issued by said civil justice, and giving said civil justice certain powers in matters of contempt.

ECHOES OF ALLEN CASE.

Bill to Pay $17,500 to Four Lawyers Engaged by State to Prosecute Outlaws.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31. — Once again the ghost of the members of the Allen clan, which wiped out the circuit court in Hillsville, stalked among the members of the legislature. The Carroll county horror was recalled when Delegates Jordan and Crockett introduced a bill providing for the appropriation of $17,500 to pay Joseph C. Wysor, W .S. Poage and John S. Draper each $5,000 and S. Floyd Landreth $2,500 for prosecuting the accused outlaws. The lawyers were engaged by Governor Mann and Attorney-General Williams. It is understood that the bill will have opposition.

R. Holman Willis, who assisted in the defense of the Allens, is a member of the present House of Delegates. His attitude toward the bill is not known.

The House yesterday passed the Brewer bill providing for a board of pardons to pass on capital punishment cases with the governor of the State. The House also passed the White anti-lobbying bill, which prohibits State institutions from paying representatives to plead their causes in legislative corridors. A bill allowing merchants to pay their license quarterly or annually was also passed by the House.

The Senate advanced a number of bills on the calendar and passed the measure relieving building and loan associations from taxation in the future. The bill goes back to 1907 and grants relief from that date.

JURIST FAVORS SUFFRAGE.

Chief Justice of Carolina Invokes War Principles in Women's Cause.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31.—Principles for which the revolutionary and civil wars were fought were invoked in the cause of woman suffrage here last night by Walter Clark, chief justice of the supreme court of North Carolina, addressing the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia.

"We fought the revolution upon the ground of 'no taxation without representation.' said the speaker, "yet a large part of the property of this country, probably a third, is now held by women. They are heavily taxed, yet they are denied all voice in fixing the amount of taxation and in the disposition of the vast sums which they pay into the public treasury.

'More than 60 years ago it was declared that this country 'cannot live half slave and half free.' It is equally true now that our civilization cannot progress to its ultimate triumph with half our population denied all share and control in the direction of the government.

"Southern States have fallen behind in this government," said the speaker. "We have boasted of our chivalrous regard for women, but we have not been sincere."

PARDON BOARD FOR STATE.

House of Delegates Passes Bill Creating Advisory Commission.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31.—Delegate Brewer's bill, creating a State board of pardons of three members, to be appointed by the governor, to serve two, four and six years, beginning July 1, 1914, was passed by the House yesterday. The governor is an ex officio member and president, and the secretary of the State board of charities and corrections is secretary. It will act in an advisory capacity.

The House also passed a bill to prevent the expenditure of money by various institutions by sending persons to the legislature for the purpose of obtaining appropriations.

The Senate, by a vote of 24 to 12, voted to make the sessions of the general assembly 90, instead of 60 days.

The Senate passed the bill for the retirement of judges of the Supreme Court of Appeals at the age of 70 years upon a pension of four-fifths of their salaries.

WEAVER TELLS WHY HE GOES TO CHURCH.

The large crowd of men who heard Hon. Claude Weaver, of Oklahoma speak in the Westminster Building last Sunday afternoon were edified and expressed the wish that he would make other visits to Alexandria. Mr. Weaver's address was listened to with close attention, and his repetition of an article from his pen, which appeared in Leslie's Weekly, of August 7, 1913 ,was justly appreciated. The following were his closing words:

'It is sweet on a summer's morning when the air is aquiver with the love songs of the birds and fragrant with the odor of roses blown, to hear the music of the churchgoing bells, an invitation to the world-wearied to enter God's temple and find peace, because the instinct of worship is in the heart of man and the church is the temple of the Living God.

"I go to church because I find peace there, that peace which De Quincy describes as a resting from human labors, a Sabbath of repose, a respite granted from the secret burdens of the heart, as if I stood at the distance and aloof from the uproar of life; as if the tumult and fever and strife were suspended; as if there brooded over me a dovelike and halcyon calm.

"I go to church because I love the music that I hear there, the mighty roll of the great organ, mingled with the marvellous symphonies of that divine stringed instrument, the human voice, untwisting all the chains that tie the hidden soul of harmony

"I go to church because I like to hear the teachings of the preacher whose soul is dedicated to God, whose field is wide as God's universe, whose theme is the destiny of man and whose words are the oracles of Fate. Marvellous is the spell of the preacher to whom God has given genius and consecration and the power of illustration drawn from the old sacred, immortal Book, and from whom the miracles of nature, no less revealed in the crimson-tipped flower turned up by the plowshare of Robert Burns upon the soil of Ayr than in the long reaches of the star-girt skies.

"I go to church because "the way is dark and I am far from home," and because the church is the polar star to light my pathway in the rayless light.

"I go to church because the church ministers not only to the spiritual life but also to the material needs of life and because it is there that the charities that soothe and heal and bless are scattered at the feet of man like flowers.

"I go to church because in that atmosphere vice and crime wither and die.

"I go to church because I hear the teachings of the philosophy of Jesus the incomparable man; and if you say His teaching is philosophy and not religion and that he was a man and not a god, then the philosophy of that man has redeemed the world from savagery and blessed mankind with Christian civilization,and to my mind it is a thing worth while to hear.

"I go to church because I find there consolation and hope; because I see there the dawn and not the sunset; and it is better for man, if the hope is baseless and the vision but an elusive phantom, to cherish a dream so glorious and beautiful than to be weighted down and crushed with the quarried mountains of a world without hope and without God."

PROVISION FOR SAFETY PRINCIPLES.

Every public school in the State will be required to devote an hour once a month in the instruction of pupils in the best method for preventing accidents and providing for the "safety first" principles. The bill has been considered by the Legislative Committee on Public Institutions and Education and it received unanimous support of that body. It was reported to the Senate with the recommendation that it become a law, and takes its place on the calendar.

This movement will appeal to people in every section of the State in this day when so many suggestions are being made by those interested in public education Participation in dangerous pastimes and the careless handling by young people of firearms and explosives have at times brought sorrow to many households. Many years ago, it will be remembered, a boy was accidentally shot and killed in a boarding school in Alexandria, and about the same time a youth of this city who was attending a boarding school in a neighboring town was brought home blinded for life by a similar accident while a gun was being carelessly handled by a fellow student.

We read much concerning the education and development of the Spartan youths, laws enacted by Lycurgus, but were the ancient lawgiver to witness a modern game of football among the young of our day or the careless handling of explosives on Christmas or Fourth of July he would doubtless flinch.

This matter was considered by the city fathers long before the bulk of the present generation were born. which is evidenced by the fact that our city code contains an ordinance forbidding indulgence in any pasttime which is dangerous to the participants or others.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The A. H. S. Literary Society will hold a preliminary declamation contest tonight to pick two representatives of the Society to declaim at Richmond College February 21st. The preliminary is open to the public and will be held in the Lee School building. Six members of the Society Frank Johnston, Ashby Bladen, Helen Blake, Flora Glasgow, Jack Reardon and Waller Barrett have been elected to compete in this preliminary. Three judges have been appointed from the faculty.

The Society expects to make a good showing at Richmond, and the representatives of the Society who declaim should work hard to establish the reputation of this Society among the other high schools of the State.

All the intermediate examinations are over, and there are many pupils who are very glad of it, as it has been a strenuous week, on most. The reports with the scholarship of the pupil for the whole first term will be given out next week.

The First year has received the class pins ordered from Dieges and Clust in Washington. The pin is diamond-shaped and the color blue and white. Twenty-five pupils received pins.

The compositions to be written on "Julius Caesar," by the Sophomores will be turned in Monday for correction. They will wind-up the study of this classic.

The High School classes begin with the second term to take up other classics assigned to them for the session of 1913-14. In the Second year during the first term the "Ancient Mariner" and "Julius Caesar," were studied in class with "Ivanhoe" as a parallel. During the second term they study "Franklin's Autobiography" and "Southern Poets" in class and have the "Tale of Two Cities," for parallel reading.

With the advent of the second term of the school session the pupil should work to improve their daily marks, and those whose marks now point to their repeating the same class next session should bolster up their respective grades with sincere and harder studying.

REWICKING
Made Easy

EASY wicking is only one of the many improvements that make the new Perfection Oil Heater (Triangle trade mark) superior to any oil heater ever made before.

Wick and carrier are in one. Just turn up the old wick, slip it out and drop another in place.

PERFECTION
OIL HEATER

This New Model Perfection Heater is smokeless, odorless and economical.

The shape of the font, wide and shallow, allows the oil to pass readily up the wick and insures an even, glowing heat even when the font is almost empty. The font holds more than a gallon of oil and an indicator shows the amount of fuel left at a glance.

There is no smoke or smell with a Perfection. The automatic-locking flame-spreader prevents smoking. No gallery to unscrew, or catch oil and dust.

Made with vitreous blue enamel or plain steel drums. Ornamental, inexpensive, lasts for years. Easily cleaned and moved about.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Rev. A. M. Piper, recently convicted by a jury in the District Criminal Court of the District of Columbia of libeling his wife, Mrs. Clara Piper, a school teacher in Harrisburg, Pa., yesterday, was denied a new trial by Chief Justice Claubaugh. Attorney M. E. O'Brien, representing Piper, has appealed the case to the Court of Appeals. The minister is at liberty on bond pending the appeal.

Considering themselves martyrs to the cause of union labor, eleven of those who took part in the recent strike of the mail auto chauffeurs will face Federal Judge Killits today for sentence. Found guilty by a jury late yesterday after six and a half hours' deliberation, the men face two-year terms in Atlanta penitentiary and fines of $10,000 each for obstructing the United States mails. This is the first time the government has prosecuted labor men as a body for interfering with Federal property.

A bomb that endangered the lives of more than one hundred persons, injured one man and aroused thousands out of their sleep, was exploded yesterday by Black Handers in front of the shoe store owned by Joseph Stella, a well-to-do Italian, at 204 East Eighteenth street, New York. The police believe that the outrage was meant as a warning for officials of the police department and the district attorney's office who are carrying on a vigorous crusade against gangs.

The first step looking to the removal of possible friction between the United States and European powers, so this government may have a free hand in dealing with whatever problems may arise either in Mexico or Japan, was taken yesterday when the foreign relations committee of the Senate favorably reported 24 general arbitration treaties. These include the treaties with Great Britain and Japan.

Hereafter there will be a censorship, according to the standards of the Roman Catholic Church, of every play on the New York stage, and after February 2, when the Catholic theater movement will be launched, no member of the church in good standing may see any play not on the "white list." There will be no black list. Cardinal Farley has written a letter fully indorsing the movement. It is expected that bishops throughout the country will enlarge the work begun by Cardinal Farley.

Robbers dynamited the vault of the bank of Lyerly, a Georgia institution, shortly after midnight last night, obtaining about $4,000. Posses are searching the surrounding country for the robbers.

Reenacting the sensational Cudahy-Lillis affair, which set Kansas City agog a few years ago, Dr. Martin E. Griffith, it became known yesterday, felled a music teacher in his home, lashed him and then calmly sent him to a hospital. Dr. Griffith, Monessen's leading physician, accuses the music teacher, A. M. Robertson, of Pitsburgh, Pa., of attacking Mrs. Griffith. Robertson is in the Charleroi-Monesses Hospital, where he was taken in an ambulance ordered by Dr. Griffith. He is in a serious condition, but will recover, according to Dr. Griffith, who is keeping an eye on his condition. Dr. Griffith is [illegible] years old, and his wife about 45, and Robertson is said to be 55.

Miss Helen Brown, of Philadelphia, is dying from hydrophobia as the result of having been bitten by her brother, who died eleven years ago after having been bitten by a mad dog. Until yesterday morning the physicians were unable to account for Miss Brown having all the symptoms of hydrophobia. She told them positively that she never had been bitten or even scratched by a dog. She knew of no way in which the terrible disease could have been communicated to her. She says her brother bit her on the arm just before he died.

Profit sharing and the elimination of labor union were declared by Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, yesterday, to be the only way out of the present industrial warfare. He was addressing the Master Builder's Association. "The labor unions oppose such methods," he said, "because they see the ruin of their business. The future of the country depends upon combating the evil influence of unions in discouraging ambition and in the theory of a limited output. "I long for the day", he added, "when American industries are to be free from this rotten condition for the men employed in them."

Overland Model 79

You Think They Are Different—But Are They?

Too many people are fooled or misled by taking bare automobile prices as a positive indication of the intrinsic value of a car. This is exactly the wrong way to go about. Because one article is priced higher than another it does not follow that this article has a greater value.

As a matter of fact there are any number of $1,200 cars which are not, in value, the equal of the $950 Overland.

For instance:

The $950 Overland has a wheel base of 114 inches.

The wheel base of the average $1,200 car is no longer than this—often shorter. So in this respect you get more for $950 than you do for $1,200.

The $950 Overland has a powerful 35 horse-power motor.

No $1,200 car has a larger motor than this. Here is equal value, and in most cases, more value for less money.

The $950 Overland tires are 33 inches x 4 inches—all around.

No $1,200 car has larger tires—Again—equal value—our price $250 less.

The $950 Overland has a complete set of electric lights—throughout—the same as on most $1,200 cars. Some out of date cars still cling to the obsolete gas lamps. In the first instance the $950 electrically lighted Overland is the equal value of the $1,200 car, and in the second instance has more value than the $1,200 (gas lamp) car. In either case our price is $250 less.

Next comes the matter of equipment. The $950 Overland is complete—a jeweled speedometer, top, curtains, boot, windshield, electric horn—everything complete. No $1,200 car has more complete or better equipment.

And so on, throughout the car. Point for point—specification for specification, the $950 Overland is, in every essential respect, the equal of any $1,200 car on the market.

So we warn you. Ignor the prices. Compare the actual facts first. Then compare the facts with the prices and you get the intrinsic value.

There will be 50,000 Overland cars made this year—the largest production of its kind in the world. And every Overland purchaser will save at least 30 per cent, and get a superior car.

INJURED IN WRECK.

Seaboard And Coast Line Trains Collide at Crossing in North Carolina.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 31.—Seven persons were injured, none seriously, when Seaboard Air Line passenger train No. 19, westbound, crashed into the Atlantic Coast Line passenger train No. 79, southbound, at Pembroke, N. C., where the two roads cross, at 7:38 o'clock yesterday morning. Engineer Charles Shaver, of the Seaboard, fractured one leg, sprained both ankles, and was cut and bruised when he jumped from his engine. The others injured are: Mrs. Nancy J. Emanuel, Latta, S. C.; Mrs. Rosabel Cartwright, Laurinburg, N .C.; Tom Ford, Hope Mills, N. C.; William Freeman, Lumberton, N. C.; Allen Perry, negro, Pembroke.

Chief of Police Dixon, of Pembroke, was struck by a falling iron ladder from a block signal stand which was knocked down by the overturning cars. Most of the injuries consisted of cuts and bruises.

A dense fog prevented the engineer on the Seaboard train seeing the Coast Line train standing on the crossing until too late to stop the train.

GOMPERS DENOUNCED.

Charges Hurled at Labor Chief at Miners' Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 31.—Scenes of the wildest disorder marked yesterday's session of the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which heard Duncan McDonald, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois miners, declare that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was "glorious drunk" during the Seattle convention and on other occasions, Gompers denial, and the reiteration by Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, that if the copper strike in Michigan were to fail it would be due to the lack of financial assistance from the American Federation of Labor.

The delegates showed little sympathy for Gompers, and he declared he was being tried "before a jury whose minds were already poisoned." but every point made by Moyer and McDonaid was wildly applauded. After McDonald had concluded, the tumult was so great that Gompers, despairing of a hearing, put on his overcoat and hat and started to leave. The delegates were silenced by an appeal from Moyer, and Gompers returned.

Gompers sat within 4 feet of McDonald, and during the applause which greeted the statement that the head of the federation was "glorious drunk" at Seattle charges of "liar," "slanderer," and the like were hurled back and forth by the two.

"Gompers had a snoot full at Atlanta," asserted McDonald. "I saw Gompers in Atlanta totter up to Delegate Groce Lawrence and threw his arms around his neck, saying, 'Johnny Walker, I love you like a brother.'

"In the bar of a Chicago hotel Gompers got 'lit up,' called me all kinds of names, and told his followers how he fixed me at Atlanta.

In speaking further of the Seattle occasion, McDonald said:

"Above the obscene language and maudlin song I recognized the voice of Gompers, who seemed to be trying to sing a solo and keep time by pounding on the table with a beer bottle."

McDonald declared he would rather vote for a wooden Indian or a yellow dog than Gompers for president of the American Federation of Labor.

Gompers denied that he maintained a machine to keep himself in office. He said he had had two officers of positions from the governor of a great State, one paying $8,000 a year, and the others $10,000, but had refused both to continue in the labor movement.

"The labor movement is a part of my life," he continued. You may drive me out of office, but you can't drive me out of the movement."

Board of Aldermen.

At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the City of Alexandria, Va,, held January 31, 1914, there were present:

A resolution received from the Board of Aldermen January 27, 1914, and laid over, directing the Corporation Attorney to prepare a deed and examine the title to a lot of ground at Queen and West streets, known as the Black lot, and directing the Auditor to draw his warrant for the sum of $3,500 for payment for same, was again laid over.

A resolution appropriating the sum of $3,500 for the purchase of the same lot of ground was presented by Mr. Field and refered to the Committee on Finance.

The following resolution was adopted by the following vote: Ayes, Messrs. Hill, Brill, Ogden, Ballenger, Field, Fitzgerald, and Mr. President—7. Noes, none.

Resolved, That the Corporation Attorney be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to examine the title to the piece or parcel of ground at the Southwest corner of West and Queen streets, assessed to the estate of Frank Hume,, and prepare such papers as may be necessary to carry into effect the purchase of said land for the sum of three thousand, five hundred dollars.

The Board then adjourned.

GOVERNOR SIGNS BILL.

Measure For Court Proceeding Against Morgan Not to be Made Unless Necessary.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 31.—Governor Mann yesterday afternoon signed the Thernto nbill calling upon J. Pierpont Morgan to return the will of Martha Washington which was stolen from the records at Fairfax County Court House and is now in his possession. The act provides that the Governor shall at once request Mr. Morgan to restore the document to the people of Virginia. Should he refuse the Attorney-General is authorized to institute suit in the proper courts for the recovery of the will at law.

The publication of Speaker Clark's speech in Baltimore Thursday night under headlines "Speaker Clark Says He Will Be Next President" created surprise at the Capital and during the morning was one of the principal topics of conversation among Congressmen and Senators. So much comment was created over the version of the speaker's address that he issued a statement denying the accuracy of the report of his speech published in many newspapers and declared that he said nothing to create the impression that he will be a candidate for the Presidency in 1916 or in the future.

R. P. ANDREWS PAPER CO., Washington D. C.
November 3, 1913.

Mr. Frank C. Steward, President,
Steward's Business College.
Dear Sir:

I wish to offer you my hearty congratulations upon the really remarkable success of Steward's Business College. I know of no institution in Washington in the last twenty years that has made such wonderful strides in such a short space of time as your college has. It is possible, however, that when one thoroughly understands your methods that your phenomenal growth will not seem so remarkable, and I believe that as people become to understand it your future growth will be greater than your past and present.

Assuring you of my wishes that my prophecy will come true, I am
Most sincerely yours, R. P. ANDREWS,
